The Mint Superintendency.

There is some stealthy and steady wire pulling going on just now by parties who desire to step in the shoes of T. R. Hofer, Supt. of the Mint. Among those mentioned as likely to succeed Mr. Hofer, are ex-Governor Adams, J. C. Hagerman, of Reno, Harry Day, Milt Elstner and John Wagner, all old line Democrats.

Piano Lessons.

Miss Sophia Jacobs who has been studying music under the instruction of Prof. F. Zech of San Francisco, is now prepared to give lessons to a limited number of pupils.

For particulars inquire at residence.

All kinds of stationery and school supplies at John G. Foxes. School books of every description, slates and blank books, etc.

Geo. Keighan, of the Marysville Democrat, is in town.

Another patient for the Carson Keeley Institute arrived yesterday.

Miss Clara Mather has been appointed teacher at the Pine Grove school.

Constable Coxing is a very sick man, and grave doubts are entertained as to his recovery.

Dan Gray and James Reid will open a dancing school at Empire in Wiggins' Hall Friday night.

The Valentine party given by Dan Gray's orchestra at the Armory last night was a very enjoyable affair, and the music was splendid.

A drunken Indian was arrested yesterday by Constable Patterson and Officer Pickler for the purpose of discovering, if possible, where he secured the liquor merriment.

The stereopticon views of the World's Fair at the Opera House Saturday and Monday nights, next, will be a genuine treat, as it will give everybody a chance to see the Fair for 25 cts.

The gentlemen who are managing the calcium light exhibition advertised in another column, are good men to do business with, and they pay cash and don't try to beat anybody down on prices.

He was talking to a Kentucky audience on the subject of the tariff. Said he: "Take whisky, for instance," when every man in the audience arose with the remark: "Thank you, don't care if I do," and the lecturer had to stand that treat or die.—Texas Siftings.

The following States will elect Governors this fall. Arkansas, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Idaho, Kansas, Kentucky, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New York, North Dakota, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Texas, Tennessee, Wyoming and Wisconsin.

The Nevada Southern Railway.

The Nevada Southern railroad is now building and is now an actual fact, says the Vanderbilt Shaft, thirty-five miles being in active operation. Sentiment in favor of the Nevada Southern is widespread, and it is not only a sentiment of words but also of actions.

Within two years after the completion of the Nevada Southern there will be more capital invested along its route than along the same number of miles of any other road south of Denver and San Francisco and west of the eastern line of Colorado.

A New Chair.

George Kitzmeyer called at the APPEAL office yesterday morning, and noticing that the chair in which the editor reclines, while racking his alleged brain for printable truck, was tied together with rope and wire, he immediately went back to his store, and selecting a first-class arm chair from his large stock of furniture, had it sent down to the office with his compliments. The chair gives such good satisfaction, that the boys in the office draw straws to determine who sits in it while the editor is out rustling up their wages.

Burial of Harvey Harris.

The burial of the late Harvey Harris took place yesterday from the residence of Ernest Harris, son of the deceased, Rev. Geo. R. Davis officiating. A choir of ladies and gentlemen rendered appropriate music, and the coffin was covered with flowers. A long procession of carriages followed to the grave.

A Live Scurf Pin.

Eli Barkley had a rare and novel scurf pin. It was a little live channel leon, attached to the necktie by a small gold chain. He had it at the soiree Saturday night and during the evening it changed color several times, sometimes it would be a bright red, then green, then brown, and in fact all the colors of the rainbow. He fed it on sugar, but the weather was too cold, and the little animal succumbed.

Slighted.

After the mail was distributed yesterday and it was discovered that not one of the APPEAL staff had received valentines, a murmur of discontent went around the office that sounded like the wail of a summer wind.

Wanted—By a good woman, a position as cook, waitress or housekeeper. Inquire at Dr. Herrick's.

LOCAL MINING PARAGRAPHS.

Ore Yield of the Consolidated California & Virginia Mine.

It is estimated that the Consolidated California & Virginia mine has produced more than 1,250,000 tons of ore. For two or three years after the discovery of the first bonanza in that ground the daily output of ore averaged nearly 1000 tons. The total bullion yield of this ore is placed at nearly $120,000,000. Allowing that 20 per cent of the car sample assay value of the ore escaped in the form of tailing and slimes, which is a low estimate, the loss would aggregate $24,000,000, but a large portion of this apparent loss was recovered by impounding the tailings in reservoirs, which were afterward run through amalgamating pans and by that process fully 60 per cent more of the assay value of the tailings was recovered.

The vein from which the above ore was extracted had a width as its greatest diameter of over 300 feet, over 100 feet of which was high-grade ore. The openings made in stopping out that vast amount of ore were filled in with timbers 12x14 inches in diameter; piled closely together and the interstices gradually filled up with waste rock, loosened in stopping out ore. A miner who was employed in the underground workings of the Consolidated Virginia at that period says that the last time he was on shift there, ten years or more later, that at the place where this vast body of ore had been stopped out the tremendous pressure had contracted the openings made until they were not more than thirty feet in width and compressed the timber filling to one-third of its original size.

President M. W. Fox says the east crosscut on the 1100 level of the West Consolidated Virginia & California will be re-opened up to the face before the close of the current week.

Official notice of the postponement of the date of delinquency, of the assessment of five cents per share pending on the stock of the Scorpion Mining Company until March 16, appears in the Enterprise advertising columns.

The delinquent assessment sale of the Ophir Mining Company took place on Monday and that on Mexican took place Tuesday.

The next assessment to fall delinquent in the Boards will be that on Occidental on February 15.—Enterprise.

Frank Helm Robbed.

While returning from the electric light works Tuesday night, Frank Helm was knocked down and robbed of over $200 in gold coin.

Helm says it has been customary for him to put the money he collects in Summerfield's safe, but as Summerfield was out of town Tuesday night, he concluded to carry the money in his pocket. He accordingly went to the Assessor's office took the money out of the drawer, and putting the gold in two purses placed them in his pocket. He left the silver, as it was too heavy. He then went down to the box factory to see Mr. Hayes, as he had often done before.

On the way down he purchased a cigar at the Briggs' House. Frank thinks some one saw him put the money in his pocket through the office window, as the thief knew just where to put his hand on it. According to his story, he was walking in the middle of the track, when he heard someone walking behind him. He turned just in time to receive a blow on the bridge of the nose, followed by another on the side of the head which stunned him. The man then began to choke him, and on securing the money started to run. When Helm gathered himself together he notified the officers, who immediately went to the scene of the robbery. As yet there is not the slightest clew to the thief.

The Weiland Saloon.

W. Whitney has assumed control of the Weiland saloon, which he proposes to run strictly up to the times. He will dispense the best liquors and cigars and fine old Government whiskey, which slides down your throat like oil, tickling your palate meanwhile. Call and see "Handsome Whit."

Thanks.

Papa Whit, of the Weiland saloon, sent the APPEAL staff several bottles of Weiland's beer last night, and he is requested to accept the thanks and good wishes of the force.

COAST NEWS.

Daisy Doyle, twelve years old, won the prize at a literary contest in North Yakima, Wash., with an oration on "How To Curtail the Liquor Traffic."

Postmaster Bridges of Ferry, Wash., is mad because the Administration doesn't accept his resignation and appoint a new man. He resigned last March.

William Devoe was taken ill on the streets of San Jose, and investigation showed that he had eaten nothing for several days and was completely exhausted.

J. B. Mays, an old man at Stockton, raided farm houses at night and sold in town next day from 100 to 300 chickens. Farmers have testified against him and he will be sent to prison.

The schooner Corona, Captain McAllen, is ashore in Useless Bay, thirty miles north of Seattle. She is loaded with lumber for San Pedro and it is believed will go to pieces.

Startling but believed to be unfounded rumors regarding the loss of the steamer Estelle are current at Victoria, B. C. One is that there was dynamite in the cargo and another that one of the discharged crew put dynamite among the coal.

Judge Collin at Sacramento holds that Rogers, who has been elected Chief of the police for two terms and once received an appointment, is not a citizen of the United States, he not being able to prove that he was under twenty-one years of age when his father was naturalized.

There is considerable feeling at San Diego over the imprisonment at Ensenada, Lower California, of a citizen of San Diego named Pullman. He has been held for some time and the Mexican Government has paid no attention to the case, although it has been placed before it. The Washington Government has now demanded Pullman's release on bail or an explanation why he should not be so dealt with.

The arrest of Amos Virgin of Monterey for robbery committed at Pacific Grove and neighborhood has greatly excited the people of the ancient Capital. There is no doubt that Virgin is the culprit. Valuables that were stolen have been found in his possession. The Jekyll and Hyde existence of the man is so astonishing to the people that it is with difficulty they can be made to realize the fact.

Fall and Winter Clothing.

John Henderson, representing Wanamaker & Brown, of Philadelphia, Pa., will be at the Arlington House, February 16, 17 and 18, with a full line of samples of gent's and boy's clothing and furnishing goods.

The public are respectfully requested to call and examine goods and prices and be convinced that they can save fifty (50) per cent of the prices usually paid.

Perfect satisfaction guaranteed.
